

The Great Book of Marsupial Faerie Names

- [\[REDACTED\]](#)

???

1. Bandicoot - "Basically Australia's attempt at designing a shy rat."
2. Bettong - "The tiny kangaroo who moonlights as a soil engineer."
3. Bilby - "Long ears, long nose, long list of complaints about rabbits stealing its holiday gig."
4. Brush-tailed Possum - "Your roof is their Airbnb, rent-free."
5. Common Ringtail Possum - "Like a tree-climbing yoga master with a curly tail for balance."
6. Common Wombat - "Australia's square-pooing bulldozer in fur pajamas."
7. Cuscus - "A rainforest critter that looks like someone put googly eyes on a teddy bear."
8. Dunnart - "A pocket-sized predator that thinks it's a lion."
9. Eastern Barred Bandicoot - "Looks cute, digs holes like it's training for the marsupial Olympics."
10. Eastern Grey Kangaroo - "The original Australian bouncer, built for hopping and boxing."
11. Koala - "Australia's sleepy influencer, high on eucalyptus and unbothered."
12. Leadbeater's Possum - "So rare it's basically the unicorn of Victoria's forests."
13. Long-nosed Potoroo - "Imagine a rat, a kangaroo, and a truffle pig had a baby."
14. Lumholtz's Tree-kangaroo - "A kangaroo that defies gravity and lives like a monkey."

15. Mahogany Glider - "The sugar glider's fancy cousin who insists on better tree real estate."
16. Monito del Monte - "The tiny Chilean marsupial that refuses to join the Australia club."
17. Numbat - "A termite-eating marsupial dressed like a woodland fashion model."
18. Northern Quoll - "Australia's cutest assassin with a spotted fur coat."
19. Pademelon - "The kangaroo's awkward little sibling who skipped leg day."
20. Quokka - "The marsupial who turned smiling into a global tourist industry."
21. Quoll - "Looks like a spotted kitty, but would rather eat your shoes than cuddle."
22. Red Kangaroo - "The heavyweight champ of hopping, with biceps to prove it."
23. Rock-wallaby - "Parkour pro of the marsupial world, bouncing off cliffs like it's casual."
24. Sugar Glider - "The squirrel impersonator who glides straight into your snack stash."
25. Swamp Wallaby - "The goth cousin of kangaroos, always lurking in the shadows."
26. Tasmanian Devil - "The metal band frontman of marsupials: loud, wild, and impossible to ignore."
27. Tree Kangaroo - "The kangaroo who got tired of the outback and moved into a penthouse (a tree)."
28. Virginia Opossum - "North America's only marsupial, playing dead better than any Oscar winner."
29. Western Barred Bandicoot - "Like a desert ghost, seen by few, believed by fewer."

30. Yellow-footed Rock-wallaby - "Wears built-in socks for extra cliff-jumping style."